Aims and scope: Oral Science International, a journal of the Japanese Stomatological Society, publishes original articles describing basic and clinical research on the cellular and molecular characterization, prevention, diagnosis, and therapy of oral diseases as well as those that contribute to the advancement of stomatology and its related fields. Oral Science International will receive materials prepared and submitted according to online Guide for Authors. However, we reserve the right to make any changes necessary to make the contribution conform to the editorial standards of the Journal, as deemed by the Editorial Board based on the recommendations of the reviewers. Contributions can be made both by members and nonmembers of the Japanese Stomatological Society. Articles must deal with original research, case reports and reviews, not previously published or being considered for publication elsewhere.

Manuscript submission: Manuscripts should be submitted online at <http://ees.elsevier.com/osi/>. Please refer to the online Guide for Authors for detailed information about the preparation of manuscripts at <http://www.elsevier.com/locate/osi/authorinstructions>.
